

Nova Scotia

Proclamation Human Values Day

WHEREAS Human Values Day is the practice of ideals that lead to good citizenship, improved quality of life and positive change using five basic principles: truth, right conduct, peace, love and non-violence; and

WHEREAS Nova Scotia is home to over 100 cultures from around the world with various perspectives, values and backgrounds that enrich the quality of life in every part of the province; and

WHEREAS Human Values Day is celebrated in over 90 cities and towns across Canada.

THEREFORE I, Stephen McNeil, Premier of Nova Scotia, do hereby proclaim April 24th, 2020 to be the "Human Values Day" in the province of Nova Scotia.

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'Stephen McNeil'.

Honourable Stephen McNeil, M.L.A.
Premier of Nova Scotia

Signed at Halifax, Nova Scotia